13,175 Pupils Jam 23 Local Schools

A booming parochial and public school crop of 13,175 today sharpened their collective pencils for the beginning of the 1957-58 school year in the Daly City and North Coastside area.

The three Catholic schools—Holy Angels, Our Lady of Mercy and Our Lady of Perpetual Help—opened this Thursday. Each is filled to capacity.

Peak enrollments will feature the debut of classes Tuesday morning in the Laguna Salada and Jefferson Elementary school districts and for students at Jefferson high and the new Westmoor plant.

4000 On Coast
The seven Coastside elementary schools, supervised by Fred Lucas, will house approximately 4000 children, an increase of 700 since last June. The Laguna Salada through includes 600 youngsters in kindergarten. Recent completion of Vallemar school has helped to take the pressure off the bulging Coastside district. The Laguna Salada faculty numbers 117 teachers.

Supt. H. Z. Weibel reports that 5550 children will be accommodated in the Jefferson Elementary district. This is a hike of some 390 over the past school year.

Double Sessions
Some 600 youngsters in 22 classrooms will be on double sessions—temporarily—in the JESD. Housing the half-day programs will be Olympia, Thornton and Woodrow Wilson schools. The two-a-day schedule will be dropped with the completion of two new schools—Vista Mar in Westlake and Vista Grande in the older part of Daly City.

Nineteen teachers will swell the JESD teaching ranks to a record 176. In addition to these instructors, the district has 20 special teachers, 10 principals, (Continued on Page 2)

$5½ Million Apartment Project Nears Approval

Councilmen and planning commissioners expressed approval at Michael Callan's proposal for a multi-million dollar apartment development west of Junipero Serra Wednesday, but objected to reduced setbacks and lack of off-street parking.

The Callan firm proposes to construct 381 apartment units in three separate buildings on six acres in the Seventy Five Dollar Homestead.

Building Up From July --Trend Seen

Building activity for August fell well below the same month for 1956 but forged ahead considerably in comparison with July construction, figures released from the building inspector's office showed today.

A total of 45 permits were taken out in August for a valuation of $171,353. This included 19 new dwellings valued at $146,053. This figure did not reflect accurately the construction of new dwellings, however, since the building department felt behind on the processing of permits because of vacations.

A spokesman for the office said building activity should show a decided increase next month.

The July total of $26,720 for all permits, with no new dwellings, was near an all-time low and the August increase indicates the general trend in building that should accelerate in coming months, the inspector's office said.

The August figure of $171,353 contrasted sharply with the $684,881 total for August, 1956, when residential building activity was still at a fast tempo before money-lending agencies put the lid on low down payment, long-term home loans.

Breakdown of last month's permits showed the following: new dwellings, 19, $146,053; dwelling alterations, 18, $15,675; commercial, 1, $1200; commercial alteration, 1, $5000; fire damage, 1, $2000; signs, 4, $735; demolition, 1, $690.

Basin Site A 'Must', Survey Group Reports

A survey released today indicated that Jefferson Elementary School district not only needs the Westlake basin site to provide housing for children through 1961, but should acquire an additional six acres in the recessed land lying off Lake Merced and Alameda boulevards.

The report, entitled "County-Wide Continuing Survey," was prepared as a special survey at request of the school district to determine if the controversial basin site property was actually needed for a school site.

Henry Doelger, owner of the land, has fought the school district's attempts to buy the property, contending that it is being sought by the Roman Catholic church for use either as site for a Dominican college or re-location of St. Ignatius high school.

"Need 24 Acres"

The district seeks to acquire about 18 acres of the property, but the continuing survey recommended that "at least 20 acres should be obtained for two 12-classroom schools and if two larger schools are built then a minimum of 24 acres will be needed."

Citing projected pupil enrollvariances to the building code: that front yard setback be reduced from the normal 15 feet to six feet to allow more space for construction of a garden court within the apartments; and a reduction of parking requirements from one garage for every single-family unit to 78 garages for every 100 units.

Councilmen and planners, meeting in joint session, objected to these variances and directed the company's representative to relay this information to the developers so that they might come up with revised plans.

Also mentioned as possible thorns in the project were drainage and sewage disposal problems and construction of streets.

The development would be constructed over a two or three year period and would be valued at approximately $5½ million.

In other planning matters Wednesday, councilmen directed all property owners involved

JESD Registers All New Pupils Here On Friday

All Jefferson Elementary district schools will be open for registration of new students this Friday from 9 a.m. to noon.

Kindergarten students must have had their fourth birthday on or before December 1, 1956. First grade students must have had their fifth birthday on or before December 1, 1956.

Parents registering kindergarten or first grade pupils must present a birth certificate, passport or affidavit as proof of the child's age.

Kindergarten children should have had their physical and dental examinations prior to registration. Forms may be obtained at the Jefferson Elementary school district office, 48 Park Plaza drive, Westlake, PL 5-3341.

Regular school classes will start Tuesday, September 10. Cards will be mailed to parents of returning children notifying them of the school and room their child will attend.

Bus schedules will be available at each school this Friday.

Calhoun In Plea For Engineer Aide

Councilmen took a dim view Wednesday of public works director Otis Calhoun's request for another civil engineer to take over duties of checking plans for commercial buildings.

At the same time, a several-months delay on approval of plans for a Westlake super market drew council ire.

Calhoun, in a letter to the council, said that he had been sending out commercial plans to an outside firm because his office did not have time to review the building plans. This accounted for the delay in approval of major structures, he explained.

The works director asked that the council eliminate a lesser job of junior civil engineer and hire a civil engineer to review the plans. The salary difference would be about $26 a month, he said.

BOCCI WON'T RUN FOR SUPERIOR COURT IN '58

Municipal Judge Thomas L. Bocci, who withdrew as a candidate for superior court last week, has revealed that he will not seek election to the post on June, 1958.

Frank Blum, 42-year-old city attorney, was named to the upper court bench after a controversy developed over appointment of Bocci by the governor.

Blum will seek election to the six-year post next June.

Bocci declared, "It isn't my plan to run for any office in 1958. I have no further comment at this time on this. I will continue to run my court in the best interests of justice and to the best of my ability."

Bocci still has two years to serve as municipal court judge for the northern district.

Expected to be Blum's principal opponent for the superior court job is central district municipal judge J. A. Branson, who was among candidates for appointment considered by the governor. Branson is expected to have the backing of south county lawyers, the group that Bocci charged with defeating his candidacy.

Since Blum must dispose of his private practice and legal matters with City of Daly City, it is not expected that he will assume active duties before October 1.

The appointment becomes effective September 11, but no date has been set for swearing in of Blum and Marcel Biscay, who was appointed to the second central district municipal court.

Blum will sit in the fifth superior court department in the hall of justice at Redwood City until plans are developed for holding sessions in South San Francisco or for establishing a permanent superior court in that city.

A two-month old Colma infant was dead on arrival at Junipero Serra hospital Tuesday after apparently suffocating while asleep in his crib.

The child, Mark Elrod, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Elrod, 445 C street, was found face down in his crib Tuesday afternoon by his mother. She said she had heard the baby cry for a few moments, then stop. She thought he was sleeping but when she brought in his bottle she discovered he had stopped breathing.

Attorney Job To Be Filled

City Attorney Frank Blum, the new superior court judge, submitted his official resignation to the city council Wednesday and speculation began immediately about his replacement.

Mayor Joseph Verducci said he had received "many" calls from attorneys seeking the job and that the council would have to make its decision by the September 23 meeting, since Blum's resignation takes effect September 15. "Even then we'll be without a city attorney for eight days," the mayor related.

Blum said that he had been asked to report to his superior court job earlier than the October 1 date first announced.

Some high level political "horse-trading" appeared on the horizon as the city weighed the appointment.

Several names have been mentioned as top choices, but there is no unanimity on the council as yet, reliable sources said.

TIPSY TEAMSTER LOSES FOOTRACE WITH EX-MARINE

A belligerent teamster, allegedly tipsy and determined not to be arrested, lost a footrace with a former Marine combat veteran here Monday night.

The ex-Leatherneck happened to be Police Sgt. David Hansen, who had to rely on speed to finally catch Pat Keefe, 31, of 326 Clementina street, San Francisco.

Hansen got suspicious when it took Keefe about seven minutes to park his car about 9 p.m. on East Market street off Mission.

When the policeman stopped to investigate, Keefe jumped out of the car and ran north on Mission. Hansen chased the teamster through a busy cafe, then halted the escapade by drawing his service revolver.

The sergeant had to get help from a passerby in order to hold Keefe until more officers arrived. And Keefe wasn't too cooperative when he

Hupf For City Attorney

With appointment of Frank Blum to the superior court bench the City of Daly City has a vacancy for the highly important position of city attorney.

We feel the council must act swiftly and intelligently in the selection of a man to fill this key position.

We would recommend that Paul Hupf, councilman, be appointed as the city's legal representative.

His conduct in public office has clearly demonstrated his integrity and allegiance to the people of Daly City. His decisions and deliberations testify to his intelligence and ability to handle a job of this import. His legal background qualifies him to hold the job.

Paul Hupf is the outstanding candidate for city attorney.

Man, Wife Die In Fire Caused By Cigarette

Last rites were observed Tuesday for Martin and Mary Francis, young Westlake couple who died from suffocation early Saturday morning after a cigarette-caused fire engulfed their home.

Final tribute began at the chapel of Carew and English in San Francisco. Mass was celebrated at Our Lady of Mercy church, with interment following at Golden Gate National cemetery.

The couple, only 25 and 34 years old, were found sprawled on the floor of their bedroom after a passerby noticed smoke pouring from the house, 20 Garden Grove drive, about 7:15 a.m.

Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy, one of the first on the scene, attributed the tragedy to a smoldering cigarette which apparently set fire to the living

Joe Bloem was appointed senior maintenance man, recreation division, a post he has also held for one year on a temporary status, with a salary range of $405 to $447. Bloem started with the recreation department four years ago as a custodian, then moved up to maintenance man and later to the senior maintenance position.

Stites, Kirchhubel War Waxes Warm

George Kirchhubel, co-owner of Hilltop Cab, continued his running battle with the city, i.e. City Manager Howard Stites, Wednesday in his quest for two more taxi cab permits.

A half-hour's debate produced no new results in Kirchhubel's behalf, but charges were aired that Stites had taken copies of the cab company's records when he "was not delegated this authority."

The issue waxed hot after a

Stites Gets Big Boost To $14,690

The five per cent pay hike for classified city employees will be extended to department heads and administrators, an informal poll of the council showed Wednesday.

The raises will include a $700 increment for City Manager Howard Stites, bringing his pay to $14,690, and a $505 boost for public works director Otis Calhoun, upping his total to $10,519.

Originally the council had decreed that only classified employees would benefit from the five per cent blanket increase, but sent the matter back to the personnel board for further study.

In a recommendation submitted Wednesday, the personnel board unanimously proposed that all city employees receive the five per cent increment. The wage increases will cost the city about $35,000.

Councilmen Michael De Bernardi and Del Wilson said they would uphold the increase for classified employees, up to and including chiefs of police and fire, but would not approve the Stites, Calhoun hike. The other three councilmen said they would abide with the personnel board's recommendation.

Also included in the blanket increases will be the director of finance, city attorney and all department heads.

Councilmen took no action on the personnel board's proposal to boost the salary of administrative assistant Fred Avilez from a range of $385-$447 to $425-$493. Stites said the increased scope of his duties, especially in personnel work, warranted the elevation of Avilez' schedule by two steps.

Volunteer Firemen In Uproar

A "memorandum" to city employees to resign their membership in the volunteer fire department drew some angry utterances from various quarters this week and debate spread to the council chambers Wednesday night.

Councilman Michael De Bernardi charged that the volunteer department had been cut so severely that "only one or two men are answering calls."

City Manager Howard Stites said that the memorandum had been misunderstood, and merely prohibited full time city employees from receiving compensation for volunteer fire calls.

The matter was scheduled to be thrashed out at a meeting this Thursday night between personnel board, volunteer firemen and Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy.

CITY DEMANDS MORE DETAILS ON FREEWAY

City councilmen decided Wednesday to "get tough" with the state division of highways to lift the secrecy surrounding the route of the new Junipero Serra freeway through Daly City.

Earlier reports from the state indicated that Junipero Serra would traverse the same route and would not be altered except for widening.

"There is strong evidence now," said Councilman Paul Hupf, "that there will be some relocation of the highway in Daly City."

Mayor Joseph Verducci directed City Manager Howard Stites to send the state a "strong letter" asking for maps of the proposed relocation. Councilman Sanford Vickers said that if it was all possible, a member of the state highway department should appear here in person.

GIRL TROUBLE DUMPS SAILOR INTO THE BRIG

Police booked a 24-year-old Treasure Island sailor on charges of disturbing the peace and drunkenness early Monday morning after the Bluejacket allegedly threatened to kill his 18-year-old girl friend and himself.

Turned over to Armed forces police was Chaucery N. O'Connor, a yeoman third class.

The sailor informed police of his intentions via the telephone, shouting: "My girl doesn't want to see me anymore."

While the police dispatcher kept the sailor on the phone, three officers sped to 1021 Brunswick street to investigate. They found the Navy man staggering about in his bare feet and the girl standing on the sidewalk.

ble of doing this work," inquired Councilman Del Wilson. "Who checked construction on the Westlake commercial buildings?"

City Manager Howard Stites said some of the work had been handled on a fee basis by the county engineer's office. "It's funny," Wilson remarked, "that we have an engineering department now and are sending out plans to be checked. Before we didn't have an engineering department and we checked our own plans."

Councilman Paul Hupf questioned the lengthy delay on approval of plans for a new super market on Southgate avenue in Westlake, pointing out that it was a "hardship on the builder."

Calhoun said original plans for the market had been submitted over a year ago, but that work had been stopped and was re-activated about two months ago.

Hupf called for "closer cooperation between builders and the engineering department," relating that the commercial structures meant a lot to the economy of the community because of the high assessed valuation.

"That's why I asked for another engineer," answered Calhoun. "The fees would more than pay his salary."

Councilmen discussed the possibility of channeling some of Calhoun's duties to present employees in order to give the works director more time to work directly in engineering. Stites said, however, that "at least half his time must be spent in the field."

Stites promised to report to the council further before any action will be taken on Calhoun's request.

Veterans News

Of Interest To All Veterans:

The President, on July 17, signed HR6191, whose section 2 ends the deduction of veterans compensation from Social Security disability benefits. The bill now becomes Public Law 85-109. The Department of Health, Education and Welfare had opposed it, but both House and Senate passed it. The bill is an amendment to the Social Security Act.

The new law also extends for an additional year (to July 1, 1958) opportunity for the disabled to apply for a retroactive disability freeze on their Social Security coverage.

Other Federal and some state disability benefits will still be subtracted from Social Security disability payments. These include: (1) veterans pensions, for non-service-connected disability; (2) officers disability retirement pay; (3) VA death compensation and pension payments for helpless children of deceased veterans.

VA compensation and pension to widows and most children of deceased veterans is not affected, as these benefits are based on death rather than disability. Death compensation and pension to helpless children is deducted from Social Security disability benefits because, being based upon a death, they are based on the helplessness of the child (such a 'child' can be a person of any age).

Contact the Service Officer of any Veteran Organization for full and concise information regarding these benefits.

Contractors Drop $757 Suit Against School District

O. G. Jones & Sons, contractors on the Colma school playground work, have dropped their suit for $757.25 against the Jefferson Elementary School district.

The contractor accepted offer of trustees last week to pay 25 per cent of the $757.25 total amount withheld from O. G. Jones. The money had been withheld as liquidated damages, after the board asserted that the company did not finish the project within the contract time limit.

The Jones firm argued in its suit that the contract had been fulfilled within the designated time and that imposition of liquidated damages would have "an adverse effect upon the reputation of the company."

Had the suit been pressed, each individual trustee, district administrators, various engineers and consultants would have had to travel to Oakland this week, one at a time, to give depositions in superior court there, under subpoenas obtained by the contractor's attorneys. Trustees had been in a quandry whether to fight the suit and save the school district money or to drop the matter, thereby realizing considerable savings in individual travel expenses.

The company had at first proposed to drop the suit if costs were split down the middle, but this week accepted the board's offer of 25 per cent.

Coincidentally, the Jones firm is low bidder on the Garden Village playground project, with a proposal of $24,000.

Trustees last week withheld action on awarding contract pending disposition of the litigation, with Jones. It is now expected that the Jones firm will receive contract for the job at trustees September 11 meeting.

FIFTH SEASON OF THE YEAR

An army of 9175 students, 400 teachers and administrators—combined amounting to almost one-third of the entire population of Daly City—will answer roll call Tuesday morning in the two local school districts and at three parochial institutions.

In the progress of nine months, a lot of knowledge will be broadcast, a lot more will fall harmlessly on 'deaf' ears.

For some children, it will be the first contact with an institution where they will spend most of the next 12 years of their lives.

For others, it will be the final year in their educational metamorphosis.

Several hundred children will continue on that sorry regimen known as double sessions.

Nearly 400 teachers and administrators will greet the inaugural day, some with anticipation of satisfying new teaching experiences, others with an outlook of a humdrum job to be done for the next 180 days until summer arrives.

More than $7 million will be spent during the coming school year to pay for the personnel and facilities to wean the young scholars.

Yet it won't be enough. And the laborious groans of planning for the following year will be heard before school is barely underway, as district administrators plot budgets, chart school sites and map future ballooning enrollments.

Such topics as completion of Vista Mar and Vista Grande schools, acquisition of General Pershing, Margaret Pauline Brown, basin site, McKeon properties, all subjects foreign to the young minds studying in their classrooms, will be debated, suggested, reiterated and resolved . . . to a happy or lesser degree.

The education process is not limited to the chalk and blackboard in this age, but is a highly technical endeavor as much government as governed.

Fortunately, we suppose, the neophyte scholars studying in their classes, are not troubled with all this turmoil, only directly through the results of official deliberations.

Opening of school has ceased to be an annual ritual for the exposure of uncooperative little minds to well-worn textbooks.

It is a great national upheaval, a fifth season of the year. Despite all the tumult and confusion, we are confident that the schools, teachers and children will all survive the year to mutual benefit. It usually happens that way.

Two For Tonight

By Leonore Browne

In July of 1942 in a hidden flat above a warehouse in Amsterdam, a Jewish family of our set up housekeeping, together with a couple named Dan and their son Peter, after they gave refuge to a single man, and this group of eight lived for two years in extremely close quarters, their daily contact with the outside world being their Dutch benefactors.

Thirteen-year-old Anne Frank kept a diary and although she did not survive the war, her thoughts did. "The Diary of Anne Frank" is both a record of how the human spirit will rise to meet the most adverse circumstances, and a commentary on how these same circumstances and our innate weaknesses will combine to bring out our most petty and ignoble traits.

Noteworthy Performances

Now translated into a play with the same title, it is currently at the Alcazar, starring Joseph Schildkraut as Otto Frank, with Abigail Kelloog in the title role. Although there are other noteworthy performances (Maria Palmer as Mrs. Frank and Nan McFarland as Mrs. Van Daan) Schildkraut and Miss Kelloog carry the burden.

Schildkraut gives an authoritative performance in the role of Otto Frank, a restrained gentle man who has resigned himself to the inevitable end and has thus gained a serenity which acts as a balance in their slowly deteriorating situation. Some have said that there is sufficient depth to Anne and to Miss Kelloog's interpretation to fall to add this quality. They must have forgotten the years between 13 and 15. They have forgotten this age's complete acceptance of the present; a knack of abandoning itself to today's party with no sad thoughts of happier times or any awareness that today's joy may be the last.

Commendable Idealism

You can almost see Miss Kelloog mature. At first addicted to the meaningless activity and voluble chatter of the adolescent, she calms down as the play progresses and her tireless jabbering gives way to a growing ability to communicate with others. In the end she reaches at a surprisingly early age the idealism of the young adult, saying, "In spite of everything, I think people are really good at heart."

The playwrights have chosen to emphasize the humorous aspects of such close living, and for the most part down the inescapable frictions which would make such a situation increasingly intolerable. This is too bad, as the play thus loses much of its potential impact.

Something For Everyone

By The Staff Of The Daly City Public Library

Keeping tropical fish—America's third biggest hobby—is one of the fastest growing family hobbies in the United States, according to hobby experts.

Enthusiasts will find numerous books which provide basic information on all aspects of selecting, feeding, breeding, and caring for tropical fish at Daly City's libraries.

For the beginner, there are such handbooks as "The Wonder World Of Fishes," by Ida Mellen and "An Aquarium Book For Boys And Girls and Tropical Fishes And Home Aquaria," by Alfred Morgan; Glenn O. Blough's "An Aquarium and H. S. Zim's "Goldfish."

The advanced hobbyist will be interested in "Goldfish Varieties And Tropical Aquarium Fishes," by William Innes; "Handbook Of Tropical Aquarium Fishes and Color Guide To Tropical Fish" by Herbert Axelrod; "Tropical Fishes As Pets and Tropical Fishes For A Private Aquarium" by C. W. Coates. "Salt-Water Aquarium Fish," by Herbert Axelrod, a recently published book, outlines procedures for keeping salt-water fish alive in a home aquarium.

Information about the care, feeding and ailments of guinea pigs is given in Leon Whitney's "All About Guinea Pigs."

Adult School's Driver Training Costs Only $12

The course consists of two phases, a driver education block—a five-week classroom session twice a week from 7:15 to 9:15—and a driver training block consisting of five sessions of 'behind-the-wheel' training. The latter to be taken upon the completion of the classroom work and by special arrangement with the instructors.

'Preview' Friday For High School District Teachers

A social hour for Jefferson Union High School district teachers will be held this Friday morning from 8:15 to 9 a.m. at Jefferson and Westmoor school cafeterias.

The social hour will be followed by an orientation meeting for teachers of both schools at 9 a.m.

School meetings will continue at 1 p.m. and at 2 p.m. faculties of both schools will tour their respective plants and gather for department meetings. The day's activities will be culminated with a teachers' check of their individual classrooms.

Legal U-turns Are Clarified

Amendments to the law have clarified for the motorist as to when and where he can make U-turns or make turns against the red light at signalized intersections, says the California State Automobile Association.

Effective September 11, a sign must be erected at any intersection with stop-and-go lights informing the motorist that a U-turn is legally permitted on a green or "Go" light, provided, of course, that the intersection is clear of vehicular and pedestrian traffic. If such a sign does not exist at a signalized intersection, then a U-turn is not permitted.

Right turns against a red light, after stopping and waiting for the intersection to clear, may be made at any signalized intersection in a business center or elsewhere, unless a sign prohibits such turns.

Left turns from a one-way street into another one-way street may also be made at any signalized intersection against a red light, after stopping and waiting for the intersection to clear, unless a sign prohibits such turns.

Heretofore, there was some uncertainty about making U-turns with a green light or "Go" light and right or left turns against a red light at signalized intersections, particularly in business centers, and enforcement of the law regarding such turns varied from one community to another, points out the AAA motorists' organization. The clarification of the law should bring about uniformity of enforcement and remove uncertainty for the motorist.

Westlake Shows New Edsel Car

Westlake shoppers will have an opportunity to see the long-heralded new Edsel car this week end.

The car, which is the first all-new American automobile to be brought out in years, will feature many radical departures in design from the current trends. Its special features will include such "firsts," as finger tip control of the transmission from the center of the steering wheel.

The Edsels, which will be in the Shopping Center by the courtesy of Regency Edsel Sales, seventh and Geary streets, San Francisco, may be seen any time during the day of Thursday, Friday and Saturday, or Friday evening. The showing of the cars is without charge.

Safeway Opens New Store Friday

Safeway Stores plan to open their new San Francisco Supermarket this Friday, according to V. Deter of San Francisco, district manager for the company. The new store, located at Ocean and Phelan avenue is now being stocked and plans are being laid for the grand opening activities.

The building was designed by the architectural firm of Wurster, Bernardi, and Emmons of San Francisco. Construction was by MacDonald, Young, and Nelson also of San Francisco. According to Deter, the building, 90 by 150 feet, was especially designed and planned for the site on which it was constructed. It occupies 15,185 square feet of ground area. The greatest portion of this huge area is devoted to the salesroom. The thoroughly adequate and sanitary preparation and reserve stock areas are located behind the scenes in large, well-lighted, air conditioned rooms.

WESTLAKE AAA GRADING WORK IS COMPLETED

Grading work has been completed and the foundation of the new Westlake office of the California State Automobile Association in Daly City is being laid. It will be a one-story frame structure on the south side of Southgate avenue in the Westlake Shopping Center a short distance west of the post office.

The new office will be considerably larger than the present AAA office at 20 Park Plaza to take care of the rapidly growing membership of the motorists' organization in northern San Mateo county.

The building is expected to be ready for occupancy in December. Off-street parking facilities for members will also be provided at the rear of the structure.

When officers arrived on the scene, Robert C. Jones was leaning against the damaged vehicle. He had been drinking, they said, and was booked on suspicion of drunk driving.

Jones was unable to tell how the accident happened. He posted $500 bond and is due in court September 12.

Letters To The Editor

Open Letter To DC Residents For Rec Program

Dear Mr. Bradshaw:

Through you, may I address an open letter to the people of Daly City?

Time did not permit me to extend thanks to all those who merit my deepest gratitude.

First, the people of this community. They not only turned out in great numbers but brought friends and relatives from surrounding areas, which taxed the capacity of the War Memorial Auditorium. Many thanks for this encouragement of our efforts.

Second, Mrs. Mary Wilson, who aided me so much and was not able to witness the realization of a dream. We mourn with her for the loss of her mother.

Gratitude

A special word of gratitude to the high calibre leaders of the playgrounds of the schools and parks. Especially to Harry Aronson and Roberta Taylor for their understanding and encouragement extended to a handicapped child. To Paul Walters, who assisted me from the day I first conceived the idea of taking a tape recorder to the playgrounds to conduct auditions. To Richard Watson for unflagging, enthusiastic effort beyond regular hours of duty; to Bob Leibe for excellent stage managing; to Mike Sibitz and Bill Mendosa for creative effort and encouragement to shy children; to Elman Rose and Dee Van Nest for co-ordination and transportation; Marie Carriacolo and Ray Cerioglio, Barbara Sampson, Barbara Heins, Jim Temallini, Bob Walters, Harry Belaforte. To Gordon de Leon who acted as accompanist and voice coach; Dave Proffitt, who brought hi-fi equipment in and recorded the show. To Ted Braun for photographs, to Bob Braan for candies, Mary Anna Johnson as rehearsal accompanist. These latter came from San Francisco after a hard day's work.

To Pat Farris, Jan Chandler, Shirley Ann Jaynes, Joyce Frasu for stage decorations.

Mrs. Newman, Mrs. Streeter, Mrs. Patron, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Cattaneo: thanks for transportation and other aid.

Mr. Frank Shea, for talent award certificates. Mr. George Catelegari for posters.

Red Roses Bouquet

Mrs. Rachone, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Arreghini, Mrs. Arreghini, Mrs. Woodall, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Patron, Mrs. Echols, Mrs. Moresco, Mrs. Hage, Mrs. Pagan, Mrs. Keelen, and Mrs. Milev were the mothers who so graciously presented me with a huge bouquet of red roses, "with love from the children." An unexpected and loving gesture I fully and sincerely appreciate.

Mr. Howard Stites, Mr. Del Wilson; Inspector Conci and Asst. Chief of Police Roy McLaren. These men were tireless in their efforts to assist me.

I have tried to remember all of you. If I have failed to mention any one, it is not intentional.

Special thanks to THE RECORD photographer Roy Hurlbert for good photo coverage; to Jane Keith for much help and suggestions.

Last, but not least by any means, to THE RECORD for the fine publicity which encouraged a capacity audience to attend the first annual city-wide Talent Show.

Thank you, my beloved "small fry" and loyal teenagers for your hard work and unquestioning co-operation, your trust and confidence in me. Without which there would have been no show, and my dream would have died!

Most sincerely,
Catherine (Kay) Ervine

Jehovahs Send Delegates To San Rafael Meet

Mr. Harold Casperson, Presiding Minister of the Daly City Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, announced today that local delegates are completing arrangements to attend an assembly to be held at the Bermuda Palms Auditorium in San Rafael, Sept. 6-8. Highlight of the Assembly will be a public address by W. D. Couch, special representative of the Watchtower Society, on the subject, "Removing the Barriers Dividing Mankind."

Mr. Casperson said regarding the talk, "People of all nations pray for peace, prosperity and happiness—yet little exists today. Why? Many barriers confront man today which prevent him from enjoying the blessings of his creator, such as selfishness, materialism, delinquency, greed, racial discrimination, etc. Even if all these barriers were removed man would still need doctors and undertakers. More than just peace and prosperity is needed! No kingdom of this present evil world offers the essentials for man to keep alive forever, yet these barriers afflicting mankind must be removed to enjoy new world blessings. God says at Rev. 21:1-5 that He is making a new heavens and a new earth where perfect health and happiness will be enjoyed forever by man."

The huge theocratic assembly, Mr. Casperson said, will open on Friday evening, Sept. 6, with songs and experiences followed by a Theocratic Ministry School and Service Meeting designed to assist all to be better qualified ministers. On Saturday the main event will be the afternoon baptism services at the Bermuda Palms Pool, to be followed at 6:45 p.m. in the evening with the showing of the new colored film, "The Happiness of the New World Society." At 3:00 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 8th, the main feature takes place, the public discourse "Removing the Barriers Dividing Mankind." All sessions are open to the public and are free.

OLPH Church Readies 10-Year Reunion Event

Plans for the Ten-Year Reunion Festival of OLPH are beginning to shape up and preparations are being accelerated, according to George Calegari, general chairman. The annual festival, which will take place on September 20, 21, and 22, in the school auditorium, is being dedicated to a Ten-Year Reunion theme since it is ten years ago that OLPH opened the doors of its new school to some 450 students. Ten classes, taught by the Sisters of St. Joseph of Orange, have graduated since that time. Sister Marie Louise will begin her tenure as principal of the school, replacing Sister Regina who has been the principal for the past six years.

At a recent festival committee meeting, representatives of the many parish organizations volunteered their help to make this year's festival "one of the most outstanding in the history of many memorable affairs." Mrs. Garth Sallade, president of the Mother's club—the largest parish organization—is taking charge of the investment details and members of the Mother's club are staffing many of the booths. Also present at the festival meeting to pledge the help of his organization was Peter Lofrano, who is president of the Men's club. Members of the Men's club have offered their services in many phases of the festival's program.

Harry Hettel, Scoutmaster of Boy Scout Troop 243, will have charge of the children's concessions and will be assisted by the Scouts and many of their parents. The Junior Catholic Daughters are sponsoring a Salami booth and many members of the Catholic Daughters of America, Court St. Mary, of Daly City are working diligently to insure the success of the festival. Also very active on the planning committee, as well as working committees of the festival, are members of the Holy Name society and the St. Vincent de Paul society. Teenage parishioners, members of the Marian club, are standing by to help in any way asked of them.

In addition to members of the numerous parish organizations, many parishioners with no particular affiliation with parish groups, the school children and the many well-wishers and merchants in Daly City have offered substantial aid.

Carl Rollandi has been announced as chairman of a plaster toy booth and Mrs. Peter Lofrano will be chairman for the plant booth. Mrs. Lofrano has gained quite a reputation with her beautiful floral arrangements which received many compliments and have been quite an attraction at the various Mother's club social affairs.

Calegari, in addition to his many heavy chores as general chairman, will decorate the hall.

Mrs. Kay Irvine is chairman for the souvenir programs. The program, which will have many items of interest, will also serve as directory for services in the parish.

A series of social affairs on Saturday nights in the school hall are still being conducted up until the time of the festival. Bingo games start at 8:30 p.m. and the public is cordially invited.

NEW MINISTER — Members of Broadmoor Presbyterian church greeted their new minister Sunday. He is the Rev. Herbert C. Tweedie, formerly the religious leader of the Roseville Presbyterian church. The Rev. Tweedie and his family will make their home here at 1116 Nimitz drive in Broadmoor.

is expected to begin soon. The congregation presently meets in the Broadmoor Clubhouse, off White and 87th streets. New site will be in the Palisades section, on Avalon and Westmoor.

ARCHITECT'S sketch of new St. Martin's Episcopal church for Westlake. Ground breaking ceremonies for the structure, which will be built at the corner of Southgate and Bradley, will take place this Friday.

Doelger, Blum At St. Martin's Ground-breaking

Two prominent Daly City citizens, Henry Doelger, builder and developer, and Frank Blum, newly appointed superior court judge, will participate in the ground-breaking service for St. Martin's Episcopal church at 4 p.m. this Friday on the building site, Southgate avenue and Bradley drive.

Official at the brief service, to which the public is invited, will be the Rt. Rev. Karl Morgan Block, Bishop of California, assisted by the Rev. Allen J. Downey, vicar of St. Martin's. The building, the third church to be erected in Westlake, will consist of a main hall seating 300, with sanctuary, office, and kitchen facilities, and an unfinished undercroft containing eight classrooms, costing approximately $85,000.

Henry Doelger, civic planner interested in the church since the initial purchase of the vicarage and building site in November, 1954, by the Episcopal Diocese of California, will assist in the ceremony as the contractor. In addition to having assisted the congregation in the past with gifts of funds, building materials, and technical aid by his staff, he is constructing the new building at cost.

Blum headed the building fund campaign during April this year which raised $26,500 in pledges, bringing the total gifts and pledges for the building to $30,000. He will take part in the ceremony as building finance chairman.

Bishop Block, inaugurated and official head of St. Martin's until it becomes completely self-supporting, will remove the first earth and bless the site of the altar. Representing the congregation as head layman, D. R. Wainwright, warden, will next remove a shovelful of earth, followed by the other participants.

Adult Night School Offers 24 Courses

Jefferson adult evening classes start on Monday, September 16, with over 24 courses available at six different localities. The majority of the classes will be offered at Jefferson high school on Mission street, but classes are also available at the new high school at Westmoor, Linda Mar, Sharp Park and Brisbane.

A complete schedule of classes is available by writing or phoning the central district office, PL 5-1162. A copy will be sent upon request. Steps are being taken to supply local libraries with copies for patrons.

According to Director John J. Ivan, this year will see "some big changes." The major one is the establishment of a $1.00 registration fee per semester for certain courses. The addition of Oral English and Mathematics, as well as U. S. History and Civics to the list of offerings now means that students lacking these subjects may complete them and so earn their high school diploma.

Special arrangements have been made with the College of San Mateo Adult Center to bring college credit courses for residents of the north county. A certificate program is available in Industrial Management as well as credit courses in Mathematics and General Psychology. More details can be had by consulting either the local high school brochure or the Adult Center. Brochure.

No advance registration is necessary except in the case of Driver Education. Students may register for most courses anytime during the semester. The Jefferson campus will be open all this week for those with special problems or interested in courses not listed in the brochure.

Municipal Baseball War Explodes Sunday

MURDERERS' row, no less? Could be. These police huskies are the gents feared most by Daly City's firemen as the two sides await Sunday's municipal battle at Marchbanks park. Although much older, the men in blue figure they have too much

Petrocchi, pitcher of questionable vintage; Shoulders Coleman, who'll call the strategy; and Hammering Hank Sundermann, centerfield. The tumult and the shouting begins at 2 o'clock.

Drug Nine Bags 2nd Loop Title

Closing out San Francisco "D" League play with a 6-1 win over Milano Inn, the Daly City Drugs have handed a second championship to their sponsor, Tom Bournellis.

Terry Christman's two-hitter in the loop finals gave the Creighton-Krohn kids their eighth win over the hard-luck Milano lads.

Christman gave up a run on an error and a sacrifice in the second, then held Milano scoreless, allowing one hit in the sixth and another in the closing frame. Ernie Alvarez only allowed four hits, but his Milano backers made three costly errors, and he walked five.

Mike Roval, George Claus, Christman, Billy and Bruce Hix and Frank Dykes all batted in runs. Terry boosted his batting average with one for two, and Barry Krohn went one for three. Danny Luciano and Frank Dykes got the other safeties off Alvarez. Mike Lanthier started in rightfield.

Daly City Drugs will play their final game of the season against BYA at Marchbanks this Saturday at noon.

Seven Candidates In Pacifica Race

Seven Coastside candidates had filed yesterday at press time for five council positions on the proposed city of Pacifica.

Several more contenders were expected to throw their hats in the ring before the filing deadline this Thursday at 12 noon. This Thursday at midnight is also deadline for voters to register for the October 29 Pacifica incorporation election.

Those who have filed to date are: Robert D. Hembree, insurance broker, 1212 De Solo drive, Pedro Valley; Ralph Barkey, salesman, 18 Cragmont court, Sharp Park; Harold L. Ordway, aircraft mechanic, 711 Claridge drive, Westview; Glenn C. J. Freese, 201 Pacific avenue, Sharp Park; Gerald G. "Gerry" Schumacher, office manager, 915 Serena drive, Pedro Valley; Glenn A. Butler, 210 Reichling avenue, Sharp Park; Roy A. Jones, nurseryman, 435 Heathcliff, Westview.

BOMBING Bob Greenstrend, second sacker, is ready to tee off on the best police department hurlers in the business this Sunday when Chief Elmer Kennedy's smoke eaters tangle with Chief Roland Petrocchi's gendarmes at Marchbanks diamond. Behind the dish is Lyle Church, another fire department mainstay. Chucking Charles Christian, a veteran of the California State League, will pitch against the badgemen.

Rec Roundup

Westlake Park
As the curtain falls on another summer, we all look back over the past three months and recall all the fun we had participating in this years program.

We began the summer with the annual outing to the S.F. zoo where Gary Texeria and Rosell Fishal had a ball feeding the animals. Oh! how can we forget Peter Keelen's guinea pig, Mess Muffens, at our pet show.

Our softball team showed their power at the Sportsday and continued to hold top position in our league. We lost the championship, but still felt proud that we went that far. Our pitcher Mike Tarens, backed by a dependable squad, put all he had in each game.

Our next event was Fishing Day. Only a few of us went as this was an activity for the early-risers. For those who missed the fun at fishing they were able to attend the annual Carnival Day at Marchbanks' park. Bobby Colburn and Diane Texeria are still having nightmares about the mystery house.

We won't forget the day that we saw all our baby pictures in our popular contest. Peter "Baby Face" Pollat had the cutest picture, but Julie and Debbie Romero, and Ruth Ann Dunn entered their snapshots that were really competition.

The day that we saw the girls put on their aprons to stress their luck in baking at our cake bake will long be remembered. Leslee Miller, Kitty Carey, Karen Wine, and Joann Pollat all received honors for their homemaking ability.

Westlake Park
At the Junior Olympics Peter Pollat, Mike Tarens, Steve Funai, Marty Seelig, Bill Robinson, Carlo Solari, and Carl Stugerwald showed their power as Westlake park took fourth place in the day long track and field event.

We all put on our skates to test our skating ability at the annual excursion. Michael Salzberg, Rich Dunn and John Milohanovich proved to be almost experts at the art of skating. A few spills occurred, but that couldn't hurt the fun had by those who participated.

The day that we played host to Olympia and Westlake School Playgrounds for Vehicle Day will remain in our minds. Tommy Bundros, David Romero, and John Beurkers came out winners.

Then came the city-wide Tournament Day in which Chris Trapain, John Milohanovich, Steve Monte, Wayne Funai, and Peter Pollat all received awards for being the champs in various tournaments.

Our next big event was our open house where we showed our parents what we had accomplished this past summer. Linda Pomeroy, Paul Geisler, Greg and Denny McHugh,

Cops Duel Smokemen In Tossup

Daly City's police and firemen, dead serious but anxious for a few laughs, meet head-on in a municipal baseball war this Sunday afternoon at Marchbanks park.

The long-awaited tangle begins at 2 o'clock. Whether they win, lose or die of exhaustion, the unsung gents who provide protection merit a full turnout.

Benefits Kids
A capacity audience is expected. There's no charge to see the thing. But all folks who'd like to help the newly-born Police Athletic League and the Boy Scouts can donate a dollar or two. The good-natured gents who'll "play one for the kids" Sunday support these groups to help erase mounting juvenile delinquency.

Reno and Las Vegas bookmakers have shied away from quoting odds on Sunday's argument. The firemen have a decided advantage — age-wise. Their first nine men (excepting boss Elmer Kennedy) are comparatively much younger than the forces of Chief Roland Petrocchi.

Elmer Ancient?

Kennedy's age is a decided question mark. Petrocchi just last week told the press that he has definite evidence "that Elmer was about to retire from the hose service in 1906 when the Big Blaze all but destroyed San Francisco."

The sensitive fire boss contended that Petrocchi was talking through his hat and merely trying to "upset my boys so they would lose their tempers and precision come game time."

Kennedy, however, will not go the distance Sunday, leading many folks to believe that perhaps Petrocchi is right and Elmer is on the road to the old soldier's home.

"I'll start in the outfield," Elmer revealed, "but I don't think I'll have to play more than a couple of innings."

"With youth to spare, we should have the cops all tucked out before the game is half over," Elmer concluded.

Fair Flinger

Petrocchi, holds the key to the outcome. A pretty fair hurler back in the days when Joe DiMaggio was a prep at Galileo High, Roland still has the "stuff" to find the plate. And he'll be on the hill for the cops when the ump says "gents, leave us commence."

Deputy David Hansen, and a pair of Dicks, Brewer and Phillips, are the lone young'uns in the starting lineup for the gendarmes. The rest are old hands on the force. But if they lack speed, they make up for it with plenty of know-how.

Chucking Charlie Christian, Kennedy's mound choice, has his work cut out for him. The cops will parade a virtual murderers' row to the plate, what with Les Bastedo, Roy "Bazooka" Beecher and Hansen taking turns with the wood, in that order.

In practice Sunday, Bastedo socked five homers out of Marchbanks park, while Beecher bombed three into eternity and ex-Marine Hansen lost a pair to the high heavens.

Trojan Ace

Defensively, the cops were never stronger. A gent to watch is third sacker Roy McLaren, late of USC, who has one of the strongest arms in the business. A McLaren toss to Bastedo in the Broadmoor game Sunday forced the beefy first sacker to the pit for repairs.

John Coleman, who'll boss the bulls while Petrocchi is on the mound, will start with an infield of Bastedo at first, Phillips at second, George Brooks at short, and McLaren at the hot corner. From left to right, the outfield will be patrolled by Hansen, Hank Sundermann and Beecher. Brewer will be behind the plate.

State League

On paper, the smoke eaters have potential to spare. Christian learned the ropes as a pitching mainstay in the California State League. His catcher, Lyle Church, played plenty of semi-pro ball in the state of Washington.

The firemen's infield features John Jacobs, 1b, Bob Greenstrand, 2b, John Castagnola, ss, and Richard Merlo, 3b.

Roaming the outer pastures will be Ralph Lytle, George DeBono and Kennedy.

The wagon men also will call on the services of Al Brush, John Martin, Dick Verducci, Charles Rivera, Harry Cross, Paul DeNatale and Ed Cook.

Special Punch

Petrocchi also will sweep his bench. A special spot has been reserved for Jimmy Welsh, a Steve Bilokike pinchhitter who bats from either side of the plate.

"If we should get into trouble," Petrocchi announced, "I'll signal him to stroke a homer or two, providing he feels like breaking-up the ball game."

Kennedy said he would protest to the high commissioner of baseball if Petrocchi used Welsh.

"The kid (Welsh) is just too powerful," said the alarmed Kennedy. "If those mugs bring him in, I'll really come up with a secret weapon."

To guarantee impartiality, professional umpires will call the balls and strikes. The cops wanted to hire Beartracks Mack, man-about-town for the duty, but again Kennedy was opposed, claiming the gent in question was "like a member of the police department."

Councilman Mickey DeBernardi and school trustee Joe Lewkowicz will "air" the game via the public address system. Refreshments will be made available by the Boy Scouts.

tetherball champ. David defeated Danny Drew in the two of three series which Joe won over Bob Molossi to gain his crown. Other boys competing in both tournaments were Bob Dyer, Keith Stoller, Buster Hubman, Billy Carpenter and Al Lujan.

Our thanks to the boys and girls who participated in the many activities and helped to make this summer an enjoyable one.

A very special thanks to Judy Rachione, Lala Patron, Penny Almquist and Arlene Johnson who represented our playground in the summer recreation "Round-Up" show and performed admirably.

Lincoln Playground
The Lincoln playground summer session ended on Friday, the 23rd of August. Activities during the last weeks of the summer program included softball games, movies, coloring for the younger children and the Recreation Round-Up held at the community center.

The Lincoln softball team also ended its season on a successful note with a 12 to 6 victory over Garden Village. Lincoln captured third place in the American league with a 2 win, 3 loss. Members of the team are Gary Colino, Mike Shea, Steve Deuschel, Mike Keough, John Sovert, Bob and Doug Thomas, Jim Pierce, Steve Spoulour, Bob Anderson and Jim Welch.

Jefferson Elementary School

The Jefferson Elementary school Recreation club closed its doors on Thursday, August 22, 1957. The club will open again on the 16th of September. At the talent show at the War Memorial building on the night of the 22nd Jefferson Elementary school was well represented. Gary Sanguinetti and Karen Moresco performed very well while Susan Ammiro and Anna Marie Delfino did some fine looking Mat Weaving

B'MOOR MIDGETS RIP SAN PEDRO KIDS, 12-1

Despite the absence of four regulars, the BYA Midgets roared to a 12-1 victory over San Pedro Lunch last Sunday in the fifth week of Junior Managers League action at Westlake park.

Winner Ron Johnson was dynamite, striking out 10, walking only four and scattering the same number of base hits.

Loser Dick Holmberg was the victim of 13 safeties. He fanned one man, and issued five free passes.

Three hits apiece, including a pair of well laced doubles made John Vocke and Bruce Hix the big lads for Broadmoor. Wayne Stoller connected for two base knocks.

Other BYAers getting to Holmberg were Mike O'Day, Carl Carpenter, Craig Chapot, John Bennett and the come-through artist, Johnson.

Coach Randy Hix, one of the best sandlot skippers in the game, swept his bench.

The Broadmoorites meet the Daly City Reds this Saturday at Balboa park, starting at noon.

TERRY CHRISTMAN, 971 Foothill, Broadmoor, pitcher, left fielder and first baseman with Daly City Drugs, has a 14 wins, 1 loss record on the mound and also leads his team in runs batted in with 41. He also leads in doubles and has clouted two home runs, one a grand slammer.

Jeff, Westmoor Gridders Open Drills Tuesday

Football kicks off in Daly City next Tuesday as the Jefferson and Westmoor preps open drills for the 1957 Peninsula League campaign.

Coach Joe McGrath at Jeff will be greeted by a promising backfield, but the veteran pilot will be working with an inexperienced line. Paul Tapia returns as McGrath's big threat at quarterback.

Westmoor, making its debut in league competition, will be tutored by Pete Matisi, former USSF player and head coach at Serra High in San Mateo.

Jefferson opens Friday afternoon, September 27, hosting Encinal High, in a practice game. The Indians will play six home games. Last season, double sessions forced McGrath's team to play all but one game away.

Westmoor travels to San Jose on September 27 for an exhibition opener against Willow Glen. The Rams will entertain four foes at the new campus in outer Westlake.

DRUNK SUSPECT BOMBARDS COPS WITH LANGUAGE

A man with a distinguished name who used undignified language to police here early Wednesday morning will report to Judge Thomas Bocci next Tuesday on a drunk driving charge.

Wilson Pattibone Jones, 24-year-old San Francisco college student, was arrested about 2:30 a.m. at the Alameda-Lake Merced intersection.

Officer Al Nicolini moved in after Jones made a U-turn, weaved in and out of lanes, and stopped in the middle of the intersection.

Jones, who repeatedly cursed his captors, failed to pass a sobriety test. He was released after forking over a $500 bond.

as part of the Arts and Crafts demonstrations.

Jimmy Hart, Richard Sirlani and Gary Sanguinetti are all about seven years old. Despite their age these boys have been learning how to hit a softball and they have been doing very well. Many of the boys and girls have progressed athletically because of the recreation program.

Narcotics Arrest Here Helps State Foil Dope Ring

A narcotics arrest made in Daly City the last week of July led to the expose of a nine-man gang of dope addicts THE RECORD learned today.

Indictments against the nine men, all with criminal records have been voted by the Grand Jury in San Francisco. They are charged with stealing about 100 physician's prescription blanks and using them to obtain a derivative of opium.

State narcotics agents credited Daly City and South San Francisco police for the systematic trackdown of the gang.

The first suspect, Kenneth Graham, 27, was arrested here July 30 after a pharmacist on Mission street got suspicious of the address listed on the prescription. State agents previously had alerted all drug stores in the area to watch for the missing prescription blanks.

A few days later, South San Francisco police picked up two more men using the same technique. Investigation brought the arrest of all but one of the remaining members of the gang.

JESD Teachers, Businessmen Mingle Thursday

A pre-school orientation workshop for Jefferson Elementary School district teachers will be held this Thursday at Colma school multi-use room.

A coffee break will be held at 10 a.m., giving teachers business people and school board members an opportunity to become acquainted.

During the coffee break, H. H. Smith, president of Daly City Chamber of Commerce, will introduce Jackson.

Some 40 local business and professional men will be in attendance, to give teachers an opportunity to become better informed about business functions in the community according to H. Z. Weibel, district superintendent.

The session will begin at 8:30 and last through late in the afternoon.
